

YOUNG WAITERS ACADEMY

YEARS 10 AND 11

2017-18

SAVOY EDUCATIONAL TRUST

BRITISH CULINARY FEDERATION

University College Birmingham
UCB

YOUNG WAITERS ACADEMY YEARS 10 AND 11

The UK's first Young Waiters Academy, sponsored by the Savoy Educational Trust, is run by University College Birmingham's prestigious College of Food in Birmingham city centre.

The free eight-week course, for Year 10 and Year 11 pupils, is run on Saturdays from 10am to 1pm. New intakes start in September, January and May.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE TAUGHT THE ART OF SERVICE INCLUDING:

- preparing a restaurant for customers
- serving food and drinks
- preparing salads, carving, cooking flambé dishes
- making mocktails

The Young Waiters Academy, based at UCB's Summer Row campus, is designed to boost the confidence of pupils and introduce them to rewarding careers in the food and drinks industry. Highlights include serving a meal for family, friends and industry professionals in UCB's fine dining award-winning restaurant.

UNIFORM

Students are required to wear black trousers/skirt and a white shirt. All other items and equipment will be provided.

FURTHER DETAILS

For more details, please contact:

Andrew Bisconti,
Food and Beverage lecturer,
University College Birmingham

a.bisconti@ucb.ac.uk;
0121 232 4022

University College Birmingham,
Summer Row,
Birmingham B3 1JB

0121 604 1000

www.ucb.ac.uk

@ucbofficial | @ucbrestaurants

